DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.
2. Claims 1-14 and 17 provide for the use of an agent. For the purposes of this Office Action, these claims are being interpreted as a method of preparing the agent and a method of treatment using the agent.
3. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

To have a general inventive concept under PCT rule 13.1, the inventions need to be linked by a special technical feature. The special technical feature recited in claim 15 is a kit consisting of a set of separate containers, in which a first container contains an avidin compound and a second container contains a biotin compound bearing an anticancer agent. In view of this Paganelli, et al. (EP 0496074 A1, published July 29, 1992, as cited on the IDS) reads on the claim. Paganelli, et al. teach a kit including a bottle containing an avidin compound and a second bottle containing a biotin compound (page 5 lines 19-30). Paganelli, et al. also teach biotin may be conjugated with non-radioactive cytotoxic substances, such as chemotherapeutic agents (page 4 lines 29-24). Therefore the technical feature recited in claim 15 is not special. Accordingly the groups are not so linked at to form a single general concept under rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Art Unit: 1643

Group I, claim(s) 1 in part, 2-14, and 17, drawn to a method of preparing a medicament.

Group II, claim(s) 1 in part, 2-14 and 17, drawn to a method of treating solid tumors.

Group III, claim(s) 15-16, drawn to a kit for two-step perioperative therapy.

4. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: as set forth above, in view of the teachings of Paganelli, et al the groups are not so linked as to form a single general concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because the technical feature of claim 15 is not special.

Groups I and III are related by product and method of making. Their shared technical feature is a kit containing an avidin compound and a biotin compound, but Paganelli, et al. teach a kit containing an avidin compound and a biotin compound. Groups II and III are related by product and method of using. The product of Group III could be made either by immunization or by recombinant methods. Additionally, the product of Group III could be used in a method of treatment, a method of diagnosis, or in a method of protein purification.

5. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder.

All claims directed a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01
